A "Formula E" is a category of race of single-seater motorsport. It was founded in 2014, idealized by Spanish entrepreneur Alejandro Agag. Since 2024, Agag has passed to occupy the position of Chairman and CEO of Formula E. This category has as its objective to be a bank of technological innovations for vehicles with electric motors of use, creating a greater awareness about the need for sustainable vehicles. All this, and the advantages of racing in the urban environment allows involvement and interaction of the cities and electrification of the centers while still in the phase of growth.

- Formula E reduced the distance between axes of 3100 mm to 2970 mm and reduced the weight to 760 kg.
- Formula E has investors, including Liberty Global and Warner Bros Discovery.
- The interests of this sport have as their objective to bring a revolution to the world of motor sports with the integration of modern technology. Formula E courses are full of more modern and relevant to the real world.

Agag and Dodds are leading Formula E on a journey of innovation while the series continues to accelerate vehicles and electric motors. With creative engineering freedoms both for chassis and for bodywork, Formula E is establishing a new paradigm of electric racing that promotes a positive impact on society at the same time that it creates a pleasant and competitively fast environment.

All this, and the electric Formula E has a relationship with the harmful industry with its partners, where it remains as a base for teams that receive specific technologies, maintaining a competitive environment balanced by the proliferation of expectations of the sport and its future generations. That they be investors or fans, clients, sponsors or strategic partners - it is all possible.
